• Concerns Regarding the Obligation to Indicate Total Amount Paid

Q. The display of total payment for used cars will become mandatory, but I would like to know if there is anything I should be concerned about in terms of performance, etc., or if there are any changes in the industry.

A. Since the industry as a whole is working on the mandatory display of gross amounts paid, we do not believe that this will have any impact on our business performance.

We are already providing some of our services in response to the mandatory total amount payable indication, and we will continue to actively support the industry, including the development of new services.
